MILITARY ADVICE

Based on our collective experience in the global military, we offer advice and/or training to any production featuring scenes containing action of a military or paramilitary nature.

We are available to:

- advise the Director/Producer/Writer
- train cast members in all aspects of relevant military skills (including running 'boot camp' style military training exercises)
- supervise the use of weapons/special props
- assist in co-ordinating cast and background artists

We have military historians on our team and will research any necessary material and provide lectures/notes to members of the cast or production team. This service includes all military conflicts, as well as drills, weapons systems, S.W.A.T./anti-terrorism tactics and armed forces worldwide.

Universal Combat Ltd. will tailor our services to meet your requirements.

We have on file the records of literally hundreds of military personnel (some of them still serving) whose skills cover a wide spectrum of military experience.

We also hold a constantly updated database of re-enactment societies, veterans associations, enthusiasts and military historians.

The majority of the people in our database have film experience.

We therefore have the ability to employ specialist advisors for all aspects of global military history depending on the specific requirements of your production.

We are also happy to advise on the tactics and weapons of the future! Our knowledge of the ways in which the military has developed over the last few centuries gives us an insight into what warfare may be like in years to come.

MILITARY SUPPORT

From our extensive database we can select for you experienced and trained personnel to act as cast, supporting cast or background artists on your production.

We can provide an army of qualified, skilled film veterans who are already trained in basic military skills such as drill and weapons handling to arrive at your location with military promptness.

We guarantee that if your production requires weapons handling, we will only send you fully trained and qualified personnel.

And if for any reason we cannot provide personnel already trained in a required specialist skill, we are certain that we can train them quickly, and with the bearing, attitude and discipline for which armed forces worldwide are renowned.

As well as personnel, we are able to help arrange weapons, vehicles and specialist military props or equipment through our various sources at very competitive rates.

We are also available to act as security for film set locations. Again, this is a field in which military expertise, training and skills are relevant, and many ex-servicemen and women excel.

We believe that military attributes such as professionalism and discipline are a useful asset to any production.

PERSONNEL

Our own military experience enables us to understand the specialist skills of the people in our database and provide the right personnel for your specific scenario.

Unlike other film and TV agencies, the Universal Combat Ltd. database is maintained and co-ordinated by former Officers and NCOs representing Tri-Service military organisations from around the World.

Our knowledge of the skills, experience, qualifications and training individual to every ex-serviceman or woman is second to none.

Who better to command the wealth of talented soldiers, sailors and airmen forging a career in the entertainment industry than their former military leaders?

When you call Universal Combat Ltd., we are confident that you will speak to somebody who understands your requirements and can immediately help and advise your production on how best to proceed.
